ABOUT US

Nazarene Congregational Church is concerned about the unique social, political and economic issues that affect everyone. Our mission is committed to ending racism, oppression and injustice as well as convincing men and women to accept Jesus as the Lord and Savior of their lives. With Christ, we can be a more holy, blessed and prosperous people. Our mission requires that each member be willing to be God directed. That is why Jesus is our Lord. "The real question for a Christian is not what do I think or feel, but what does God require of me?"

The Nazarene Congregational Church is one hundred and thirty seven years old. Located in the Bedford Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, New York (Central Brooklyn) it was established in 1873 and is one of the oldest congregations in Brooklyn, New York.

There have been several spiritual leaders over the years. Each has contributed to the present day Nazarene organization and structure. Our current senior pastor is Rev. Conrad B. Tillard, ThM.

We rejoice that basically we are a family church with members representing not only 70 plus years of service but members representing three and four generations of families.

In more recent years, Nazarene spearheaded the efforts to restore an old abandoned public school in close proximity to the church. With these efforts of Nazarene and the community and others, the school has been restored and now houses a charter school for young boys. Instead of an eye sore in the community, it stands as a beautiful stately building on the corner of Patchen Avenue and MacDonough Street. When you visit us, you can learn more about us.

To God be the glory!
